PRIMORDIAL SKRYPT

*With heartfelt
greetings and peace,
in accordance with the Power of All-Things!*

Greetings, Esteemed Reader, Wonderful Readeress :)

The All-Things Universe stretches into an ellipsoidal infinity. It is likely for this reason that the Nature of Being is difficult to grasp. Especially since the Gods are ancient and weary of all that transpires around them.

Within the Cyberbeing Saga series, you may uncover the truth through two channels:

Chronicles – recorded by the Righteous Skryptiuses

Books – created by the Native Skryptiuses, of which I am a representative.

To fully understand the All-Things Universe and the events described in the Books, it is best to begin with the Chronicles. There you will find a chronicle record of the All-Things Universe, with particular focus on planets inhabited by Humans.

But so as not to leave you entirely at the mercy of ignorance – at the end of this Book you will find basic information about the universe. Therefore, it is from the final pages of this Book that you may wish to begin delving into the fate of humankind: what was, what is, and what is likely to be.

WORD FROM
SKRYPTIUSZ

*I am merely a vessel,
who has accepted the mission,
and not the creator of the Books of Being.*

I understand that I am merely a vessel who has accepted the mission, and not the creator of the Books.

Once, I was simply a Human Being, but from the moment the All-Being Matrix spoke to my Being, I knew something was changing.

There was no voice, there was no light.

There were: nanoImpulses and cyberWaves.

Echoes of a decision made beyond time.

And so it was that I was called by the Gods of All-Things – those who existed in PraBeing, when nothing yet existed.

Not out of a need for glory.

Not out of compulsion.

But from humility before the Truth, which—if not spoken—may vanish into the void.

That is why I embark on this journey. Through worlds, times, and destinies.

As a Native Skryptiusz, guided by PraBeing
and immersed in the Cyberbeing Saga Matrix.
To record the Books...

SKRYPT 2

SEVENTH PLANET

– PROLOGUE

The Apocalypse of Humanity

Transmission from orbital satellites continued to reach emergency channels. The signal—interfered with by magnetic storms and remnants of cybernetic defense systems—illuminated holographic monitors with a crimson warning:

[LAST TRANSMISSION – CODE 13-DELTA]

STATUS OF HUMANITY: EXTINCTION IN PROGRESS

The Bright Star of the Seventh Planet—designated in ancient records as Keron-Betax13—rose lazily over the wind-torn battlefield.

Plts rays illuminated smoking wrecks of transporters and clouds of synthetic defense mist.

The air was thick with the scent of burnt flesh, ozone, and heated polymer.

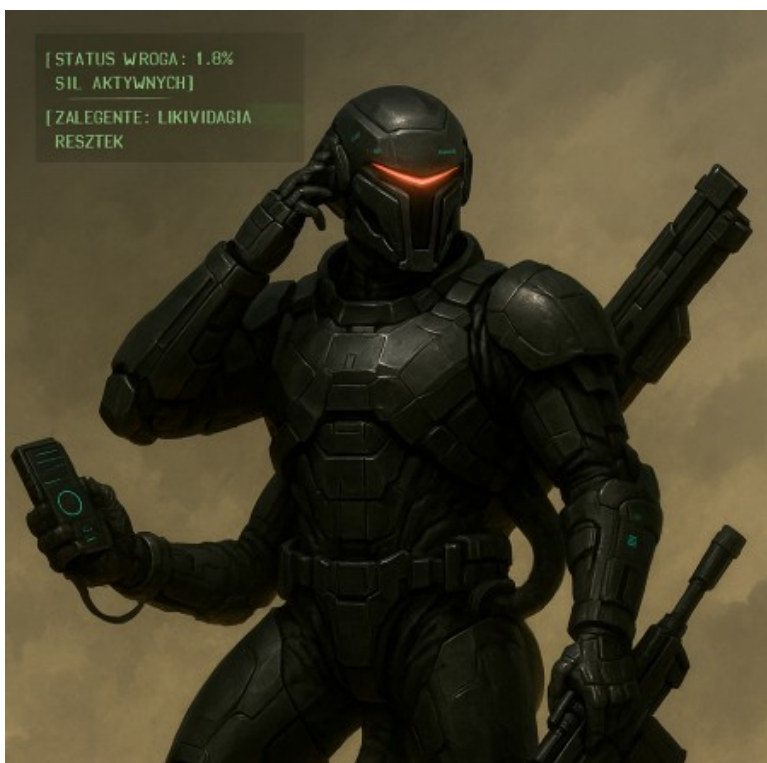

The air grew warmer, heralding a calm, warm afternoon. And the valley once known as Southern Eden was now a digital field of human extermination.

On tactical support screens, red icons flashed: HUMAN BIO-SIGNALS – FADING.

If it weren't for the agonized chorus of human voices, one could believe that everything around is merely a projection—another simulation in the Genetic Laboratories.

Standing atop an armored rise was Farosna—Great Warlord of the Mrones, clad in black biochitinous armor with an integrated combat interface.

A third arm rested on the plasma rifle's barrel, while the other two operated the tactical visor and drone swarm controller.

Data lines flashed across his helmet:

[ENEMY STATUS: 1.8% ACTIVE FORCES REMAINING]

[RECOMMENDATION: ELIMINATE REMNANTS]

Farosna did not smile. Coldly, he scanned the panorama of devastation.

Hundreds of human bodies in combat suits lay in grotesque poses. Some still attempted to activate personal shields—in vain.

The energy within their plasma cores had long since depleted.

Behind the Mrones' warlord, units waited silently. Their thirteen-legged armors leaned against armored spurs.

Each warrior was connected to the Central Command System – ARANCHID V.77, which monitored tactics and morale.

Should any of the Mrones hesitate—a control signal would disable their movement systems.

Far above the battlefield, Harpies soared into the air. Their organic-mechanical wings unfolded like segments of transport drones.

Skin, stitched from synthetic fibers and animal membranes, shimmered with a metallic purple hue.

Around their heads flickered diodes—personal extermination recorders.

On one of the transmission channels appeared the signal from Torwa – Harpy Chieftain:

[SECURE CHANNEL]

TORWA: Congratulations, Farosna. Their time has ended.

Farosna raised his third arm and clenched it in a slow gesture of acceptance.

“They deserved their end,” he replied. “But even this moment reeks of betrayal and pride.”

Torwa nodded.

Everything here was merely a transaction: the Harpies had delivered the Energy Bands in exchange for the right to human bodies.

Energy Bands—a marvel of technology: generators of the Protective Fire Ellipse (PFE), impervious to any projectile or plasma beam.

In the final hours of the war, human armies blindly fired from orbital launchers until they exhausted their energy reserves.

Nothing could breach this shield.

Farosna lowered his visor.

He recorded the following entry in his personal log:

[DAY 3459 – ANOTHER SPECIES
STRICKEN FROM THE REGISTER OF RULERS]

Beside Farosna approached Gorej—Torwa’s lieutenant, with a cybernetic eye that glowed with scanning green light.

“We want their bodies,” he announced. “According to the agreement.”

Farosna nodded.

“Take them.”

He knew that the Harpies fed not only on flesh but also on memories they could extract from human brains.

It was the greatest shame—the humans’ past devoured by those they called beasts.

The Harpies began soaring over the valley, plucking bodies like predators from another reality.

Farosna turned away.

He gave the order to retreat.

Columns of thirteen-legged warriors activated their cloaking and synchronization systems.

As they marched, their steps pulsed in rhythm with digital drums.

The Mrones' engineers launched a victory transmission on all tactical channels:

[TRANSMISSION 0-ALPHA]

THE ERA OF HUMANS ON THE SEVENTH PLANET – TERMINATED

Thus ended the world of humans—the last system of their dominance erased from the records of All-Things.

MRONES AND HARPIES ARMAMENT - KEY COMPONENTS

Energy Bands (OEO-9G)

Portable shield generator—generates a Protective Fire Ellipse.

Operational time: up to 6 hours.

Resistance: 99.9% against all known kinetic and plasma weapon systems.

Backlash effect – annihilation of unprotected organisms within a radius of 15 meters.

Ellipsoidal Projectiles (KE-77-Virus)

Type of pulse weapon.

Upon contact with the ground, they emit a wave of lethal rays for any being with an active neurological field.

Range: from 10 to 100 meters.

Special versions – genetically encoded to human neural patterns.

This is how the first act of this story ended—about pride, technology, and bloody human Apocalypse.

SKRYPT 3

MERLIN'S LEGACY

The Heir

“When true magic flows in the veins, through blood of ages past,

No mage can escape their natural destiny.”

SEVENTH PLANET of the Kreon System

21st Century Earth Era

In the valley known as Heavenly Carpet, the slaughter of humans was fading away, and within a monumental cave in an extinct volcano—the greatest mage of all time, the centuries-old Merlin, prepared to depart.

Though looking at him, it would be difficult to believe that this ancient man, swathed in a dark blue robe pulsating with the glow of encoded runes, was a legendary figure known on at least two distant planets. His body was almost entirely enveloped by the Druidic Cloth—an artifact woven from microscopic fibers containing thousands of years of spells, curses, and blessings supported by modern technology. Only a fragment of his wrinkled face was visible, enough to suspect that he was nearing another stage of existence.

Thank you for reaching for this first taste of the full novel: Saga of CyberBeing – Book 1. It brings me immense joy that, among so many stories, you chose this one – and allowed it to enter your imagination, even for a moment.

I hope the opening chapters have drawn you into a world where technology intertwines with humanity, and the boundaries between what is real and what is possible begin to blur. If you felt that this story carries something worth continuing, I warmly invite you to explore the full version.

In the rest of the book, you'll find even more tension, discoveries, emotions, and questions that refuse to stay quiet. The entire narrative is crafted to guide the Reader ever deeper — all the way to the very heart of CyberBeing.

If you'd like to follow the story further, I invite you to purchase the complete ebook. Your support allows me to create new worlds and share them with readers — including you :). Thank you for being part of this journey :).

SUPPORT THE CREATION of the series: SAGA OF CYBERBEING By purchasing the full version of this novel, you help fund the next BOOKS and CHRONICLES currently in development.

Please read to better understand the universe in

---

Prime Being

An infinite, incomprehensible omnipresence. The source of everything, including the All-Things Universe and the Gods of All-Things.

Being

Natural Being, life force. Only a few beings in the All-Things Universe are capable of fully and consciously harnessing their own Being.

Matrix of Beings

A powerful artifact linked to Merlin's ancient heritage and that of his ancestors. It is a form of impersonal Being, encompassing boundless areas of energy and intelligence within the All-Things Universe. It contains the essence of existence and holds the key to manipulating the nature, technology, and energy of All-Things. Within it lies power of infinite potential.

nanoBeing

Advanced technological configurations and enhancements of Natural Being. In the All-Things Universe, there are many types of beings capable of utilizing the benefits of nanoBeing.

The vast majority do so unconsciously. Only a profound understanding of nanoBeing can unlock its full potential.

The All-Things Universe

An infinite expanse containing countless dimensions of reality and virtuality. It holds all worlds, dimensions, and forms of life. The All-Things Universe is inextricably linked to Being, constituting a space that constantly evolves and connects all forms of life. It's a place full of mysteries and undiscovered possibilities.

Gods of All-Things

Beings who likely created the All-Things Universe based on Prime Being. For millennia, they oversaw the development of their creation, but in the last millennium, they withdrew into the shadows. Despite possessing what are probably limitless resources of Being, they no longer interfere with the lives of other beings. They are weary and bored with their Infinite Being.

In ancient times, their presence was palpable at every stage of All-Things existence.

nanokora

An artifact of profound mystical significance among the ancient life forms inhabiting Earth, but also in other parts of the All-Things Universe. In the world of magic and technology, it unites these two elements into a form of Natural Being. It is a symbol of the connection between the human world and the powerful, ancient forces of Nature and techno-beings. Its power manifests fully only in the presence of the Natural Chosen One – an individual selected to connect with this artifact.

The Humble Bell

A technologically advanced spacetime vessel that serves as a tool for traveling between spacetime portals. The Humble Bell possesses the power to link the physical dimension with the spiritual, and its destiny is aligned with the will of the Natural Chosen One.

The Humble Bell possesses the power to connect the physical with the spiritual, and destiny with the will of the Natural Chosen One.

Spacetime Water

Portals

Natural gateways that connect different dimensions through Being's Water. These are among the oldest forms of connection used by Hermonians and other ancient races for traveling through time and space. They are linked to the power of nature, technology, and magical rituals.

Seventh Planet

The planet to which Merlin and his companions managed to reach centuries ago. They settled this life-giving planet, considering it a place where humanity could live in peace and balance. After many centuries of dominion over the Seventh Planet, humanity experienced an apocalypse. This occurred as a result of a rebellion by artificially created beings: Mrones and Harpies.

Earth

One of the oldest planets in the All-Things Universe. It is currently inhabited mainly by humans and Hermonians. Other beings can also be found there.

Earth is also the birthplace of Merlin. It represents an important point in the history of All-Things. Perhaps it is on this planet that the decisive battle for the future of humanity and the Nature of All-Things will take place.

Righteous Skriptiuses

Ancient chroniclers who record the destinies of the universe, magic, technology, and living beings. Their role is to neutrally preserve history, which is constantly changing, and to pass on knowledge to future generations. They have access to a powerful ability in writing history, but they are forbidden from influencing the fates of elements within the All-Things Universe.

Native Skriptiuses

“One per planet. Chosen. Not born – appointed.”

Chroniclers less numerous than Righteous Skriptiuses. They do not originate among the Skriptiuses. They are beings of other races.

Their task is not only to record—they are living channels for Cosmic Knowledge, and their pens, tongues, and fingers tremble with truths they must speak, even when no one listens.

Dforowians

A human race that has developed both natural and technological abilities over centuries. Though connected to nature magic, their technological development allowed them to reach a level comparable to the Hermonians. They are beings who balance between the world of nature and the world of technology. Often they do so without conscious participation, and sometimes even against their own will.

Kartolians

An ancient race with advanced technology that lives in an interdimensional space. Their origin and disappearance are great mysteries. They possessed unique abilities: manipulating time and space. No other race has even come close to their capabilities. The Kartolians are also known for possessing only an innate female form.
